Postdoctoral Scholars/Fellows Procedures and Resources
During the course of their employment at The University of Iowa (UI), Postdoctoral Scholars and Fellows may encounter a problem that would require them to seek advice about how to address it. This document is intended to serve as a guide to UI resources that can be used to meet concerns on a variety of issues related to, for example, research misconduct, discrimination, mental health, and workplace violence. Strategies for addressing a problem may take the form of a confidential consultation as well as informal and formal grievance procedures.

Confidential Consultation
The Office of the Ombudsperson is a safe place to talk about any concerns, including but not limited to sexual harassment or misconduct, discrimination, violation of policies, and unethical behavior. This office is a professional, confidential, independent, and neutral resource available to help you informally work through work-place challenges. Strict confidentiality is maintained except when there is a risk of harm to anyone, there is a court order, or they are required by law to disclose information. Ombudsperson Office contact information: C108 Seashore Hall, (319) 335-3608.

Problems Handled by Non-Academic Units
Reporting issues such as research misconduct, harassment, discrimination, sexual assault, sexual harassment, and violence are handled by Non-Academic Units. These issues have their own reporting process (see pages 3 through 5 for a list of non-academic unit resources and contact information).

Research Misconduct
Research misconduct is handled by the Research Integrity Officer for the University of Iowa. You can reach the Office of the Vice President for Research and Economic Development at 2660 University Capitol Centre. Please call to make an appointment at (319) 335-2106.

Discrimination and Harassment
If a Postdoctoral Scholar has been discriminated against or harassed based on characteristics listed in the non-discrimination statement in the UI Human Rights Policy, the Postdoctoral Scholar may contact the University's Office of Equal Opportunity and Diversity. More options are provided in the resource section.

Informal Grievance Options
In order to maintain and promote a fair and productive work environment for all University Postdoctoral Research Scholars and Postdoctoral Research Fellows, the University encourages the active resolution of workplace conflicts. Postdoctoral Scholars/Fellows and supervisors are encouraged to maintain and utilize open communication to promote and maintain a civil and humane workplace. The University also provides a variety of mechanisms to facilitate the management and constructive resolution of conflict situations involving Postdoctoral Scholars/Fellows when workplace conflicts occur.

The University encourages the resolution of conflict at the earliest opportunity, or the lowest step in whatever dispute resolution process is used. Both formal procedures and informal conflict resolution mechanisms are provided. Postdoctoral Scholars/Fellows are encouraged to use informal resolution whenever appropriate.
Postdoctoral Scholars/Fellows who have a work-related complaint are encouraged to first attempt informal resolution by discussing the matter with the individual involved and/or the faculty advisor. See page 4 for conflict management resources. If a resolution cannot be reached; the Postdoctoral Scholar/Fellow may initiate a grievance review.

Formal Grievance Process

A grievance review must be filed in good faith (see anti-retaliation policy; http://opsmanual.uiowa.edu/community-policies/anti-retaliation). Outlined below are procedures designed for all Postdoctoral Scholars/Fellows to assure prompt and impartial review and consideration of concerns and complaints that may arise in their working environment. A Postdoctoral Scholar/Fellow may withdraw the grievance at any point during the process. Grievances that have been withdrawn may not be refiled.

General UI Policies Concerning Postdoctoral Scholars/Fellows:
http://postdoc.grad.uiowa.edu/

For formal grievances, please refer to these steps:

Step One:
The Postdoctoral Scholar/Fellow will submit documentation to the Senior HR Representative or departmental/program administrator/executive officer. Please contact your HR representative and the Graduate College for more information. The review must be initiated within ten (10) University business days of discovery of the event causing conflict or within ten (10) University business days following the unsatisfactory conclusion of an informal grievance process. Within ten (10) University business days of receiving the grievance, the reviewing party will meet with the Postdoctoral Scholar/Fellow and will also provide a written decision/response. If additional time for the review is required, the departmental reviewing party will notify the postdoc of the new date by which the decision will be made. If the departmental DEO/Director is directly involved in the issue in question, the Postdoctoral Scholar/Fellow should proceed to Step Two.

Step Two:
If the issue is not resolved at the departmental level, or if the department’s DEO/Director is directly involved in the issue, the Postdoctoral Scholar/Fellow will forward the Grievance Review Form to the administrative unit of their college within ten (10) University business days of the response, and will include documentation of all steps that have already been taken. Within ten (10) University business days of the receipt of the grievance, the head of the major administrative unit, or designee, will meet with the parties involved and review the arguments and facts. Upon completion of the review, not to exceed ten (10) University business days, the collegiate administrator will meet with the grievant and will also provide a written decision/rationale and/or resolution. If additional time for the review is required, the collegiate reviewer will notify all concerned parties of the new date by which the decision will be made.

Step Three:
Either party (postdoc or person/unit that claim is being made against) may appeal the collegiate decision to the Graduate College. Within ten (10) University business days of the collegiate reviewing party decision, the Grievance Review Form will be submitted including documentation of all steps that have been taken. The designee within the Graduate College will review the request, creating a committee if deemed appropriate, and will submit a written response within ten (10) University business days to the party appealing as well as the Postdoctoral Fellow/Scholar’s College. If additional time for the review is required, the designee within the Graduate College will notify all parties of the new date by which the decision will be made.

Step Four:
Either party (postdoc or person/unit that claim is being made against) may appeal the Graduate College decision by submitting a written rationale that details the reasons for the appeal to the Graduate College Dean within ten (10) University business days of the decision. The Graduate College Dean will respond in writing within thirty (30) University business days. If additional time for the review is required, the Graduate College Dean will notify all parties of the new date by which the decision will be made. The Graduate College Dean will make the final institutional decision.
